

COASTAL NEIGHBORS NETWORK NEWS

Don't Hesitate to Ask!

Please ask Andy if you have questions about the types of services available through Coastal Neighbors Network. We have done dump runs, removed brush, cleaned doors, trimmed shrubs and many other things. Andy can let you know if the request is within our scope of service. You may be surprised!

Call Andy at 508-556-4004.

DID YOU KNOW?

Please remember that there needs to be a two-day window between placing a request and the actual date of the service. The earlier you make the request, the easier it is for our volunteers to plan their time and fill the service.

If you have questions, please call Andy at 508-556-4004.

Meet your neighbor!

You can learn a lot about Gert Liberatore by taking a tour of a special place in her Westport home – her craft room. In one corner, there's a colorful display of paints she uses for creating designs on pieces of slate. Another corner houses all the fabric, tools and equipment for a myriad of hobbies – quilting, embroidery, crocheting and sewing. Gert is a person who likes to be active! She's applied that energy and enthusiasm to her whole life, from her childhood in Fall River and a wonderful family life with her husband Edward as they raised three daughters, to a 30-year career at Pleasant Drug in Fall River and a host of volunteer activities. After retirement at age 60, Gert helped out by taking care of her grandchildren, but also continued to volunteer – at the Charlton Hospital gift shop, the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life and the Westport VA office. "I know how lucky I am to be in good health and still able to help others," she says. Gert loves being a Coastal Neighbors Service Member, especially the opportunity to get together at regular social events. "I've met such wonderful people and they've all been so welcoming." Recently, a volunteer crew came by to help with furniture moving. "They were amazing," she says. "Coastal Neighbors has been a wonderful addition to my life."
